Organization of the Service Basketball League is now completed, and with eight fast teams entered, the race for the championship should be a keen one. Lieut. Col. W. R. Riley, commanding the 1st Infantry, N. G. H., has donated a handsome silver cup, to go to the winning team.

The eighth and last team to swing into line for the series is entered by the Department Hospital, Fort Shafter. Captain J. R. Mount, M. C., has the management of the team.

Candidates for the national guard basketball team are to report to 1st Sgt. Henshaw, D. Co., captain of the team, next Wednesday evening at 7:30.

HANK O'DAY LIKELY TO UMPIRE FOR THE FEDERALS NEXT YEAR

Hank O'Day, deposed manager of the Cubs and former umpire in the National league, is sought by President Gilmore of the Federal league as an arbiter in the new organization for the season of 1915. President Gilmore made the announcement in Chicago recently to the effect that he would make O'Day an offer far better than anything the National league could offer him in the event the former Cub leader decided to take up his old position behind the plate.

Mr. Gilmore looks upon O'Day as one of the best umpires that ever handled an indicator and thinks the Federal league umpire staff would be greatly improved by the addition of Hank.

There is no reason to doubt the belief that O'Day will become an umpire in either the National or Federal league. He was manager of the Cincinnati Reds, then took another whirl at umpiring and followed by taking charge of the Cubs last year. According to dope this will be his year to work as an umpire and then follow next year by obtaining a managerial position with some new team.

STORMY WAR COUNCIL.

The Paris Petit Journal prints a telegram from Copenhagen stating that a great council of war took place under the presidency of the kaiser before his departure for the eastern scene of the war.

The gathering was very stormy. The generals of the headquarters staff strongly criticized the manner in which the crown prince had been conducting operations. The staff also expressed the opinion that the Germans should successively evacuate France and Belgium and then remain on the defensive.

During the discussion the kaiser had several fainting fits caused by neurasthenic pains.

WOMAN SPY SUSPECT.

Suspected by the police to be a spy, Rosa Blum, a Hungarian, was charged at Westminster, London, as an unregistered alien enemy.

For the defense it was stated that the woman left Paris in anticipation of a siege and was only here five days before being arrested. She understood very little English.

After being sentenced to three months' hard labor the woman in perfect English said, "I am very much obliged to you."

Big Leaguers Are Philosophers When It Comes To the Weather

It takes more than a little rain, or a big rain for that matter, to put a big league ball player off his stride, and yesterday, when Honolulu looked like one gigantic shower bath, there were no grouches noticeable around the Young, Seaside and Moana hotels, which are now baseball headquarters.

Every day during the playing season is a guessing contest between baseball men and the clerk of the weather, and this tends to make philosophers. It's a different case, though, during the season, for the players get their little old cheques rain or shine, and in this case they are individually interested in the gate receipts.

There wasn't much to do yesterday in the way of sightseeing or amusement. Some of the players tried swimming in the rain, but found it a somewhat cheerless sport. A few golf enthusiasts spoke of their favorite game, but it was too wet even for that semi-aquatic sport.

Incidentally there are several keen golfers in the party, and next week they hope to try out the local courses. While Christy Mathewson was along there was enough golf talk to suit anybody, but interest has somewhat slackened since he left the tourists.

"Bobby" Byrne, whose picture appears above, is another keen golfer, who plays a good game, according to all accounts. There is talk of a golf match between a team of the visiting ball players, and an army officers' team from Schofield, the match to be played at Lihuehwa. If this plan goes through Byrne will captain the baseball-golfers, and Lieut. Harbold will look after the interests of the army club swingers.

Great Game Sunday. Tomorrow's last game should be a hammer, and if clear weather continues Moiliili Field will be in condition for fast play. The soil dries out fast, and supplemented by considerable work on the infield by a force of groundkeepers, sunshine will do wonders.

The old world's series rivals, "Big Jeff" Tesreau of the Giants, and "Bullet Joe" Bush of the Athletics will be opposed in the box, with Killifer catching for the Nationals and Henry for the Americans. Good weather will mean a crowd such as Moiliili field has never before accommodated.

The Alerts, champions of the Y. M. C. A. Club Bowling League in the first series, started after the second series last evening when they took two games from the Ancients. The old-timers won the first game by a 32-pin margin and the Alerts looked to be way below form.

In the last two games, however, the naval rollers recovered their form. The second game went to the Alerts 785 to 763, three of the Ancients blowing up in the last frame. The submarines won the deciding game by a safe margin.

Chamberlain took high average, 178, for the evening and Milton had high score, 207. The Alerts men as usual rolled consistently and there were no exceptionally high totals. Melien took high average and Ashcroft high score. Lineup and scores:

INDOOR LEAGUE LEADERS MAKING SPLENDID RACE

Indoor League.

The largest crowd that ever attended an indoor game of ball at Kakaako hall was on hand last night when the Star-Bulletin club met the Korean Boys in the first game of the evening. The Star-Bulletin boys won by the score of 29 to 18. Eighteen of the Star-Bulletin's runs came in the first inning, owing to the miserable support that was given the Korean pitcher. In this first frame Chu struck out four men, all of whom reached first because the catcher failed to hold the third strike. After the first inning, or, more properly speaking, night mare, the Korean Boys played a fine game of ball, but the damage was done and although they managed to cut down that awful lead from 18 to 11, they were on the short end at the finish.

Any, the Star-Bulletin boys' star slatter, did not pitch up to his usual form nor was the support afforded him anything that might turn Alexander or James green with envy. The best playing of the evening was done by K. S. Kim, who played short for the Korean Boys, while the absence of Tyau, the regular Star-Bulletin catcher, was surely felt by the rest of the team.

The second game of the evening was between the Kakaako Jrs. and the Kalmuki Club and was won in the last half of the ninth by the Kalmuki Boys scoring five runs. The game was fast and interesting from the start to the finish with a run each in the first frame. The players put all they had and knew into the game with the result that the large crowd present was treated to a fine, interesting game.

Kakaako took a one-run lead in the sixth and increased it to four in the next inning, which Kalmuki cut down to three in their half of the inning and held Kakaako runless in the sixth frame and scored four in their half of the same inning, once more taking the lead. They lost it in the seventh when Kakaako scored two to their one, the score then being even 11-11.

In the eighth Kakaako scored five, while Kalmuki's best effort brought in but one, and the eighth ended with Kakaako 16, Kalmuki 12, and then came the ninth. In the first half of the ninth Kakaako went out one-two-three, and then the Kakaako balloon ascension took place. With one out the next man up got a base on balls, the next was safe on an error, then a hit, then a couple of errors, then a wild pitch, then another error, then a hit and about that time the fifth Kalmuki man had crossed the pan with the winning run. Final score, Kalmuki 17, Kakaako 16.

GOLFING HINTS.

By "Straight Drive." PUSH SHOT—One of the most effective shots for long approach to the green is what is known as the push shot, as played by Harry Vardon, James Braid and other leading professionals and good players all over the world. The shot is played by bringing the club more down on the back of the ball, and through it into the turf, than usual. The trick seems to be to do it in such a way that the ball will roll up in the face of the club, which gives in the rotation that produces the result.

A ball properly played with the push shot flies low for great distances, and then drops with very little roll. A good bit of turf is taken every time the shot is played correctly.

BRITAIN IS WORKING TO MAKE NATION FREE OF ALCOHOLIC BURDENS

In an editorial of a recent number of the London Times it is stated that: "A very grave peril threatens our nation at the present time."

"It is not the fleet of Zeppelins which are supposed to be lying in readiness for an attack on London. Nor is it the possibility of an invasion on our east coast by the German army."

"The danger is from our ancient foe—Alcohol."

"Whilst our brave army is fighting the enemy abroad, this insidious foe is at its deadly work in the homes. Women in receipt of separation allowances and relief money are throwing the bars of public houses and drinking away the resources which ought to go in food and clothing for the children."

"This has been called a Teetotal War. It is so to a large extent for the men on active service. But at home it threatens to lead to a terrible increase of drinking among the mothers of the country."

COWBOYS EAGER TO ENLIST.

Hundreds of American cowboys from the cattle ranches in the state of Montana are anxious to join the next Canadian contingent to the British army. They offer to supply their own mounts. These roughriders of the plains can ride and shoot like Cossacks.

JESS WILLARD NOT LIKELY TO GET BIG FIGHT

Jack Johnson Will Probably Meet McVea or Battling Jim Johnson in Cuba

[By Latest Mail]

NEW YORK.—After all the wire pulling and manipulation on the part of his backers it begins to look as if Jess Willard will not get first crack at Jack Johnson for the world's title. The latest news concerning the future engagements of the champion is that either Sam McVea or Battling Jim Johnson is to be his next opponent, the battle to take place in Havana, Cuba, the latter part of March or early in April, 1915.

Has information direct from a gentleman representing George Bradt of Havana, who is at the head of the syndicate organized to promote a series of heavy weight matches during the coming winter and spring season. According to my informant, the plans originally called for a fight to a finish between Sam Langford and Sam McVea, the winner to meet Johnson. But it developed that McVea's manager, George Lawrence, at present in New York City, did not care for any of Langford's game and entered his objections to Sam being made a principal. Then it is also thought that Johnson objected to any plans which would give him Langford for an opponent.

It has been announced in the New York papers that Jack Johnson and McVea have been matched, but according to my information this is a trifle premature. McVea's participation in a match with the champion depends entirely upon the success he meets with in the preliminary skirmish with Jim Johnson. The winner of that bout is to get the coveted chance for the title.

That the proposed importation of the negro fighters is not at all popular with certain interests in Havana is evident by the following excerpt from a recent issue of the Cuba News, a weekly newspaper published in that city:

"The Cuba News desires to enter an emphatic protest against the publisher of the Havana Post (Mr. Bradt), to convince the people of Cuba, and Americans, and especially that class of Americans who have the means and the desire for foreign travel, chess around after second rate colored prize fighters and spend lavish sums for the opportunity of seeing them bruise each other up. The News right here brands the statement that 20,000 tourists would come to Cuba to see two negroes put up perhaps a fake fight as a false and nonsensical statement, and the man who made it knew it was false and nonsensical when he made it."

"The publisher of the Havana Post may enjoy such spectacles as he proposes to pull off here in Havana, but if he goes, he stands alone in his class. Instead of 20,000 tourists coming to Cuba to see a second rate boxing match there would not be 100 persons attracted by the fight and any one who has seen prize fights and the followers of the game know there are not 20,000 persons in the United States who would pay $10 to see Langford and McVea fight, to say nothing of spending 20 times that sum for the expenses of their trip."

Predicts Opposition to Bout. The New York papers erroneously announced a bout between Jack Johnson and McVea and nothing has been said about the preliminary match between McVea and Jim Johnson to determine which is to be the champion's opponent. From the foregoing article it would appear that the promoters of the proposed matches will meet with considerable opposition in their attempt to introduce the sport in Cuba through the medium of negro fighters.

The statement that the "United States would send 20,000 persons to see Langford and McVea fight" (this was printed before the shift had been made) is absurd, it is extremely doubtful if a baker's dozen would travel to Cuba even to see Johnson and Langford and that layout would be made up solely of newspaper men, who would go because it came as part of their duties. But with the big negro population in Havana the venture may be able to make a little money, leaving the greater profits to come from the sale of moving picture rights.

Anyway, it looks as if Willard has been left in the cold for the time being.

WHY DICK EGAN DIDN'T MAKE TRIP TO HAWAII

The San Francisco Chronicle of November 27 tells why Dick Egan didn't come to Honolulu with the All-Stars. The paper says:
